

We are excited to announce that Dr Samuel Ramsey will be doing 3 more talks with the NH Beekeepers Association. As members you are invited to attend for free! The first will be next Thursday January 28th. Please register at the link below. He will also be giving two other talks on the dates below, so save those dates! All the talks are free thanks to a generous IPM Grant from the NH Department of Agriculture. We are also grateful to the UNH Cooperative Extension for their help running these meetings.

Registration is limited and will be open to other NE Bee Associations on Sunday. Please register today! I will send the links for the February Event after January 28th, and so forth.

Important! The start time may change a bit. Please check the NHBA website this weekend to see if the event starts at a slightly later time. <https://nhbeekeepers.org>
